

Prospective billing & safety seminar for private employers

Bonus! Earn training credit for BWC programs

FREE

Have you heard?

BWC is switching to the industry standard of prospective billing for employer premiums. Have you wondered what it means for your business? Private employers: Come to a FREE seminar near you to get answers and details about prospective billing, including:

- The reason for the transition and its benefits to employers;
- How BWC will cover the costs of this change with a transition credit;
- Transition timelines and important dates to remember;
- Essential information and new requirements for payroll reporting;
- Changes to deadlines for rating plans and BWC programs.

The seminar also includes the latest workplace safety updates and information to help you lower costs and keep your workers safe on the job.

Earn training credit for BWC programs

As an added bonus, by attending a seminar, your company can receive safety-training credit for the following:

- EM capping;
- One Claim Program (after the first year);
- Grow Ohio Incentive Program;
- Safety Council Rebate Program (one meeting credit);
- Group and group retrospective – safety program requirement for those participating employers that have a claim in the “green period.”

Who should attend?

- Financial controllers and payroll officers
- Human resources professionals
- Business owners and chief executive officers
- Certified public accountants
- Workplace safety and/or risk managers

Dates and locations online

Visit www.bwc.ohio.gov to find a seminar near you. Don't delay! Seating availability is limited!

Bureau of Workers' Compensation